

Bio:

Jessica Del Valle, our physician, trained at the Atlantic Institute of Oriental medicine and worked at the Primary Care Holistic Center throughout the 4 years she was an understudy to the Vice president, Dr. Fudi, MD (China) of the school. She has partnered with The Wellness Project, a non-profit organization to provide little to no cost cancer treatments to patients living with cancer. Along with receiving training through Memorial Sloan Kettering, the leader in Cancer Research to incorporate Acupuncture into cancer treatment protocols. Dr. del Valle has also received training from Mazin Al-Khafaji, a renowned traditional Chinese Medicine practitioner specializing in Dermatology and Autoimmune disorders. Taking part in a TCM Diploma Course Practical in Dermatology, she is now one of 76 members to be certified in this type of treatment across 12 different countries.

Certifications

2016-2018

TCM Diploma Course Practical & Clinical Dermatology

In-depth and practical approach to understanding and treating the most prevalent skin diseases seen in clinics.

2016

Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center

Integrative approaches to treating cancer patients including Acupuncture and herb-drug interactions

2014

World Tung's Acupuncture Association (W.T.A.A)

Basics, Part 1, 2, 3

2013

Kiko Matsumoto

Introduction to Advanced Japanese Acupuncture & Moxibustion